Background

MC+A provides integration solutions for managing business intelligence, allowing our clients to leverage their existing processes and information as strategic business assets. Focused on the enterprise, MC+A's expertise allows clients to find, manage and share information more efficiently. We integrate with and build enterprise applications designed for deriving maximum Return on Investment (ROI) for clients.

Since 2002, MC+A has dedicated itself to improving business intelligence access and management. We were the first member of the Google Enterprise Partner Program and specialize in universal enterprise search deployments.

Solutions

Enterprise Search

MC+A was the first Google Enterprise Partner and have worked with companies to implement Google enterprise search solutions.

Collaboration

By integrating systems like Microsoft SharePoint, Connectbeam and Google Apps with existing infrastructure, we help clients maximize the usage of their assets.

Business Intelligence Management

From custom application development to outsourcing, we understand the importance of information management. Better management of your business intelligence allows clients to collaborate and function in a more streamlined fashion.
